Just-in-Time Embryonic Stem Cell/ Human Subjects Review Grant Application Signature Page

Many federal agencies will accept the JimsTime InstitutionalReview Board (RB) Review. The sponsor's instructions should stipulate iRB approval or pending approval is required at the time of proposal submission or the sponsor acknowledgesceptance of Justo-Time IRB Review.

NOTE: By signing this statementhe investigatorack nowledges that all IRB requirements will be secure before initiation of the propose project, recruitment of subjects and any data collection. All investigator subjicing this type of review process are required to submitthis signed statement with the university transmittal sheet indicating applied, you may submit an ewproject application to the IRB Office prior to the notice of funding order to avoid delays in the start date. The rewill be no exceptions to the regular scheduled IRB deadlines because funding is pending for a proposal, and is not possible to guarantee IRB approval in advance of the review process.

Investigatos who learn that their proposal may be funded should submitted project application to the IRB Office for review. No portion of the proposed search can be conducted in til the proposal has been reviewales 4d4c 0.